City Man Married In Courtenay Rites

Of interest to Victorians was the wedding Saturday in Courtenay of Miss Patricia Donalene Tilbe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Tilbe, of Courtenay, and Lionel Herbert Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel H. Edwards, 1941 Taylor Street, Victoria.

Rev. Frank Johnson performed the double-ring ceremony in St. George's United Church.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Tilbe wore a gown of slipper satin with Italian lace and net gathered in a half skirt to accent a straight front panel of the satin. The sweetheart neckline and sleeves were appliqued with matching lace as was the chapel veil that fell from her tiara of pearls and brilliants. She carried a crescent of red rosebuds.

Her attendants, dressed alike in white brocaded sheath dresses accented with sashes of red chiffon under the high waists, were Mrs. Jack Roberts, Mrs. M. Golicz and Miss Frances Cooke. Junior bridesmaid Evelyn Edwards wore a princess-style dress of the same fabric.

Best man was Mr. Peter Thomson of Victoria, with ushers Mr. Tom Varty of Maple Bay and Mr. Dennis Coverdale of Victoria.

The couple were piped into the reception at Elk Hall by Mr. M. Golicz playing the wedding march. Mr. Stan Cooke proposed the toast to the bride.

For a honeymoon in the U.S., the bride wore a shocking pink suit with patent leather accessories, a hat of white gardenias to match her corsage.

"We bought our three-room group from Macdonald's. It's beautiful and the terms are real easy."

Young Farmers Down Under

Cash Grows in Fields

SYDNEY, Australia (WNS) —Australian teen-agers are earning big money down on the farm.

In Sydney now for the annual Easter Show, schoolboys and girls confessed to spare time earnings of up to 500 pounds ($1,400) a year.

They are members of the Junior Farmer movement, the Australian equivalent of 4-H clubs.

SINGLE CROP

Two older boys claimed profits of £6,000 ($16,800) from a single crop—one with peas, one with tomatoes.

A 17-year-old schoolboy from Jerry's Plains, New South Wales, calculated that he worked 16 hours last season for a profit of £500 ($1,400.)

"I used four acres of vacant land," said studious, spectacled Allan Armour. I spent £15 on fertilizer and seed and borrowed machinery to cultivate, I picked the crop by hand. This year I've rented 20 acres from my father. I should make over £1,000.

GIRL EMPLOYS DAD

One girl who has been eminently successful is 24-year-old Rosemary Lucas, of Armidale, New South Wales. She visited the U.S. and Canada in 1956 as junior farmer of the year.

From a single cow and calf project, Rosemary has established her own stud Jersey herd and employs her father to handle her commercial milk run.
